Hotel

In the heart of Paris, between the Opera House and the Champs Elysées, next to the Place de la Madeleine, the hotel is just off a short walk from the prestigious boutiques of the Faubourg Saint-Honoré, not to mention the renown "Grands Magasins" department stores on Boulevard Haussmann. The Astor Saint-Honoré hôtel affords an oasis of refinement with an inimitable French taste designed by Frédéric Méchice, one of the most gifted interior designers of today.

Rooms / Suites

Restaurant

As in vogue in the 1930s, the oval dining room, with its starfish along the walls, reminds the insouciant fantasy of the surrealists. Trompe l'oeil eggshell walls create parchement lozenges in the manner of Arbus. Immaculate table linen and the finest porcelain impart a refreshing luminance to this truly distinctive restaurant, which has a private dining room. To discover the delicacy of the courses, the Chef of Astor restaurant, Jean-Luc Lefrançois invites you for taste this news flavours in a quiet and air conditioned setting.

Tourism

In one of the most beautiful districts of Paris, you will discover numerous monuments and museums which you will spend a good time. Nearby the hotel, visit The National Museum of oriental Arts, The Palais Chaillot which shelter the Musée de l'Homme and the Marine Museum. Also, discover the main monuments of the Capital: Eiffel Tower (8th), Avenue des Champs-Élysées (8ème), Le Jardin des Tuileries (1st) which is the most beautiful and the oldest park of Paris, the Opéra-Garnier (9th) eclectic symbol and le Louvre Museum (1st), the biggest museum in the world...
